Considering Long-Term Care Insurance? David Katz Has a Digital Guide for You

It's available for immediate download

Easton, CT April 24, 2018 -- If you're thinking about long-term care insurance, you've probably got many concerns and questions. Some of these may be answered by a digital guide from David Katz of ACSIA Partners LLC.

"Dignity for Life: Five things you should know before considering Long Term Care Insurance," is a PDF publication that may be downloaded here: <http://davidkatzltc.com/>.

It addresses questions such as --

- What is long-term care and what are the odds I'll need it?
- What can I do to stave off the need for care?
- If I do need care, how much might it cost?
- Does Medicare cover any of this?
- How much does long-term care insurance cost, and are there any tax breaks to make it more affordable?

The guide also offers information on --

- what to do if a carrier turns down your application,
- why LTC protection is especially important for women, and
- alternatives such as a Health Savings Accounts, annuities, and LTC riders on a life insurance.

"It probably won't answer all your questions," says Katz. "For others, I'm available by phone."

ACSIA Partners LLC is one of the nation's largest long-term care (LTC) insurance agencies; and Katz represents the company in CA, CO, CT, GA, NY, OR.

Katz's company offers easy access to a wide variety of financial planning help:

- Long-term care insurance policies from multiple carriers,
- Annuities with tax-advantaged LTC features,
